

QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER

"May you always live in interesting times" came true for many in 2025. It was a dramatic year for the world, for the economy, and for many industries—especially the media industry. Many customers and partners have struggled, while others thrived. After the pandemic pandemonium, the world has indeed become an interesting place.

AI has stolen the limelight in many discussions, generating a healthy dose of optimism, sometimes mixed with concern and caution. We continue to support leading third-party platforms. We were excited to introduce eMAM Next, our open source based on prem solution in Q3 for organizations looking to control costs and/or control access to their media.

We will be excited to share some of the customer success stories, integrations, and new features under development as 2026 unfolds.
